As the global leader in frozen aromatic herbs, our family-owned company - driven by committed teams with a strong sense of purpose - innovates from seed to plate to promote the vibrant, natural taste of open field-grown herbs.

At the peak of the season, we cultivate excellence, so that they draw the full intensity of their flavor from the terroirs where they thrive. Immediately frozen to preserve their organoleptic qualities, they are used in our sauces, marinades, and infused oils — unique solutions tailored to the needs of food manufacturers, chefs, and retailers across the globe.
